"Some may expect me to have some respect for a fellow military leader, but it is because of my military service that I despise him. Reading his dossier, I noticed quite a few incidences where he executed surrendered troops. I shouldn't have to remind people that if you execute soldiers that surrendered that you shouldn't expect them to surrender to you anymore and you will take more casualties because of it. Also grenading infirmaries is great way to have your own grenaded if you ever give your enemy a chance. The rules of war don't exist because of any moral reason but because its just more practical for everyone involved. And I guess I should touch on how sometimes he seems more like a child rather than an adult. Sending your opponents a sex tape to throw them off only works maybe once in exchange for giving them ammo to use against you."

Knight-General of All Hyrule, Alcalph

"Truly, it seems that the strange, strange occurrences as of recent has me continuously stumbling upon these writings of people and figures I have never been given, neither will most likely have the chance to meet face-to-face. So, we have an 'Elizabeth Gallahan' here, no?

The first point I must state about this woman is her dedication to wanting to achieve much for HER realm... And in regards to this, I am not talking simply about the union of which the two realms of which now constitute as one, this 'Svenska-Britannia', whatever that could mean, but rather the 'Britannia' side. It is the nationalism to one's true home that brings the energy of which one can continue to do much good for the place of which is being represented, and is indeed a fact that I can most certainly respect about ms Gallahan. Just as I aim to prove with my actions, and overall Hyrule's armies, she will aim to bring her realm to greater glories, with or without the support of others of the world. I will not allow the Pseudo-Realms of the Gorons and Zoras to create a threat for Hyrule should it come down to it, and it seems that this respected individual won't allow such in her case either.

In addition, despite her sex, Elizabeth Gallahan proved to be a fighter against the odds, unlike how the Princess-Sovereign of Hyrule had done for her realm amidst the invasion of the Twili five years ago. Ms Gallahan sustained injury, she saw insurmountable loss, but nevertheless continued to fight for the honour, for the safety of her comrades, and her realm. And that can only bring me to respect the woman, truly.

A shame that we'd never get to meet, it seems that your world and my realm are truly too separated to allow such a thing. I would wonder if your strength goes beyond those fancy contraptions, those strange bows that can fire without even a string, without any effort on the user. Can you wield that ceremonial saber of yours not only as an item, but a weapon? That is something that I would like to know.

By any means...

Who keeps leaving random dossiers in my room? If this is some kind of joke to get me to focus less on my tasks, disciplinary action will be taken!"

With that, the Knight-General stashes the random appearance of the dossier of Elizabeth Callahan in a chest nearby, most likely never to see the light of day again...

Okay, seemed like Svenska-Britannia WANTED me to do Elizabeth, didn't even see that LMAO

The Princessdom of Hyrule. A fanfiction based on the Legend of Zelda :: Twilight Princess that takes place half a decade after the conclusion of the game. A new caste of Hyruleans, no less the newly built army resent the old Guard and Princess-Sovereign Zelda for the surrender of the realm to the Twilight and the weakness of Hyrule from invasion...

Meanwhile, the Zora worry greatly about the militarization of Hyrule, and the Goron less so due to the Economic stranglehold of the Rupee of which they have as leverage.

She was conscripted into her nation's military, to join it willingly would be more honorable but whatever, she served dutifully and effectively regardless. She got plastic surgery for her injuries? A weird part of me is curious to see what she looked like before, also, what is a 'PTSD'? an award, maybe... Her politics are less worthy of praise, 'LGBT+' is yet another foreign acronym I'm stumped on, and this fixation on color and other nations is just weird." Anšar opens 'Unfortunately...' and 'But the truth is...' "Oh... Her psychopathy is almost preferable to her facade to be honest, and her fervent hatred for her former enemy is commendable, still, highly evil behavior for the most part. I wish she'd be able to channel all her hate exclusively towards those who've wronged her and crush them only, her innocent kin don't deserve to suffer for her trauma, if she doesn't though? Well, clearly that black napalm showed the world the real her when it melted her face."

Damn, abck in our realm, it's much more simple. Someone is running for his life from oppressive hellhole? We accept him. Oppressive hellhole tries to force us to kick him out with some extradition order? We tell them to piss off unless they wanna piss us off. Or in case they are stonnger, we use some vague language and lies. As for that escape... I am adrenaline junkie, ya' know. Guess, I am gonna car surf of something...

As for his education stuff, yes, making schools disabled friendly was an awesome decision, if ya' ask me. No child should be unable to gain knowledge due to disabilities, things out of his control. Plus, as far as I know, he performs extremely well in the sphere of education. His expertise in child psychology, combined with his deep understanding of teaching synergize, making him a perfect education minister. If I could consult with him about the aspects of education, this would be like totally awesome! It would not only enrich our own ways of education, but also I can learn from him about learning things more efficiently. For example, I am pretty sure, he promotes the use of mnemonics, so students can memorize stuff better. Even useless one are useful in some way, although practically useful is better... they'll forget the boring stuff, sure... but as far as I heard neural connections, which store the data, which were enlarged while learning, will remain forever. And with mnemonics, students learn more, students get more memory." -Shawn

I see, although I have long considered the Austrian type as inherently evil it is obvious to my eyes that the righteous American side has certainly won out here, like every good American Mr. Ludwig here shows dedication to peace and justice which are noble and worthy values, although I must express my discomfort with the passive approach he presents, it is not enough to defend peace but it is absolutely necessary to find and put an end to evil wherever it is found in order to defeat the devil and his influences that without being confronted will continue to threaten that most precious good which is peace, even so I send my most sincere greetings and a wish of good fortune from one American to another because although it may not seem so the role of a public official is as important in the war against the Anglo Satanic forces as the role of a general.

I find it impressive that she has at least 13 different positions as Chief Enforcer of the CFC Enforcer Program. Aside from jobs, she is certainly one unique person, from the fact she is 412 years old, to her height at 6'8, to the time period she's in! Her abilities are vast as well, and I see she has the ability of genetic enhancement. Lastly, the fact that little is known about her early life would interest me and other people as well. Our people have a knack of wanting to know more of a topic when not enough information is leaked to them. I do find something in common with her; we're pro-money, neutral about charity, and anti-pacifist (at times). Overall, she's a unique person.

A respectable man, one who takes firm and fast action against those who would rather an anarchy! Those animals, so full of crime, deceit, at least he's taking action! And, although I may have problems in other regards, at least it's firm, strong action, and not the weak, backhanded measures taken by the corrupt and incompetent! I congratulate you, my good sir. Congratulate you indeed.

"Beers is as interesting as watching paint dry. His rise is vague, and his policies are none to be seen. Well, aside from his "Anti-Communist" stance that has supposedly caused an issue with this "Left-wing Party" neither of which. I haven't the slightest clue what they are and would appreciate intel regarding these ideological groups that do not exist in the Fatherland nor the Ascendency. Nevertheless, despite the overall barebones of his profile. I do support he is a man of law and order as there aren't many leaders out there, they understand anarchy (or as they call it "liberty") is the gateway to complete and utter destruction. "

Wiktat-Wan-Stayun is the child-murdering dog of a vile emperor. You are a genetic abomination and a scourge upon the cosmos, you don't care about your kin in any way beyond killing and oppressing them, although I guess you don't really have kin, do you, abomination? You are no man, you are not a person at all, just some whelp who's allowed himself to be broken and twisted into a tool, a tool who lays with whoever will have him, corporate villains, fellow murderers, aliens, you are an animal without standards or dignity. Heed my words, ḫalgatû, I swear to Ištar, to my brothers and sisters, to my ancestors, and to great ATRAḫASIS himself that if you or any of the creatures you associate with ever come near the Celestial Shurayu Republic I will deal with you myself."
