"I made it very clear that we will not sit down with dictators who subjugate their people. The pursuit of the betterment of society results in nothing if the individual is neglected. Personal Freedoms are essential to the health of the community; people are not cogs in an everlasting machine. Denying people a voice in their government, cutting them off from free trade and, for all intents and purposes, reducing humans to a mere commodity, Maxell has little to show for his "Great Experiment." For all his talk of stability and utopia, Maxwell has flagrantly displayed he knows nothing of leadership."
-Chancellor Erik Vyndor, Catholic Federation of Ithallis

Ithallians are the definition of unconquerable. They are bound by a brotherhood that can only be forged in a war, for Ithallians, all of them, know the cost of freedom. As long as you respect them and are faithful in your dealings with them, Ithallians will treat you like a member of that family. If not...they don't tend to leave survivors...

Where's the royal blood? Doubtless this little experiment shall not last. Only a monarchy can be a true nation. Freedoms are but the milk of traitors and anarchists, the words of heretics and deceivers. To this man, who is so enamored by freedom, I bite my thumb at thee, I spit at thee and stab at thee."

Yes our leader has a long title. No, that is not a self-appointed title, nor by choice. It is of political significance; excluding even one part of the title could lead to revolts.

Wow, he makes Rick Grimes sound like a real leader, and that's implying Secundus and Rick Grimes aren't exactly the type of leaders I suggest people would want to be led under. Mm...perhaps I am being unfair on Secundus and comparing him to a post-apocalyptic cop who's got a lot of issues to deal with it, I'd compare him to one of my personal favourites: King Charles II of Spain. That guy with a head full of water."

OFFICE OF THE PREMIER

Regarding "The Emperor":

So humanity has been taken aback to be ruled by cats? Or to allow a cat to rule then? Where has gone the innate desire for natural human supremacy? We are the dominant, intellectual species, are we not? These cats shan't step a foot on Holy Quebecois soil lest they submit. Apparently these felines have a natural gift for war. For humanity, it's a natural talent. Let's display these talents.
