Who the F put the Funk Into my Swing - Cab Canavaral Electro Swing DJ Mix

One of the best in my opinion.

"Let me get this straight, you think surrendering, and offering yourself will stop the war? How arrogant. The life of each human is worth one, that's it. Nothing more, nothing less."

Melodeath has quite a range of variety within the genre, although much like yourself, I can't really be bothered to go questing for the hidden gems of it.

Arctic Monkeys - R U Mine?

I'm not even sure what I'm listening to, but I like it. It came up in YouTube suggestions. Wiki says its indie rock. YouTube suggestions is quite nice.

That song (Frozen Angel) is the only reason why I bought this album. Well, that and the fact that it was only 3€. Pretty decent album, nothing spectacular.

Norther - We Rock

Not brightest songs of the album but tolerable.

There is an unfortunate number of albums in which I only like one song from. Worse, than that, there are plenty of bands I will rate a single song from as a 5/5 and not enjoy the rest of their works. I guess it's not an issue. It just kind of sucks finding a great song and then having my hopes crushed by finding out everything else the band has made subpar.

Arctic Monkeys - Arabella

This song is an interesting example of indie rock very heavily influenced by Black Sabbath's War Pigs. War Pigs does have a lovely riff, so it's not all that surprising a band in an entirely different genre would make use of it.

Strangely, that's by far my favourite Norther song and I'm not really impressed by their other ones.
