Kronovan artistry is divided into two camps. Traditionalism and futurism. The former prefers a realistic depiction of day-to-day life while the latter is a romanticized depiction of exploration in life.

A post-apocalyptic, 1920s neoclassical-styled, multicultural federation of central European kingdoms led by Emperor Konstantyn after a bloody civil war. Governed as a secular and meritocratic liberal autocracy with a dirigist economy. Please show some love by upvoting one of my factbooks. Wall of texts doesn't come out of thin air, y'know.

2289 A.D.

In the early 21st century Siberia was struck by a massive asteroid that brought untold devastation and the collapse of almost every government. An alien virus, capable of mutating its victims, was brought to Earth as well. Eastern Europe, Siberia, China and countless other regions fell to the mutant horde. Europe became a medieval landscape ruled by feudal lords. The Middle East unified into a single Sultanate over time and entered a golden age wherein they have learned to co-exist with mutants. The Americas, which have lost contact with the old world, have turned into a Mad Max hellhole.

The time has come to make yet another nation. You'll probably recognize me.

There is a strong chance that Rezmaeri people drink kefir, view the Scythians as predecessors, and historically conducted pogroms.

They have some sort of semi-sentient collective intelligence that they're all connected to (which essentially constitutes their religious system), and they live underwater, and are basically stereotypical nymph-elf-things in other regards, with some extra LGBTQ+ (?) thrown in for good measure.
