A favorite, and I forgot how electronic it is.

I challenge that with one of my favourites.

I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

When I say "A favorite", I typically mean a favorite by a particular artist, if that wasn't clear. I'll do something like "One of my favorite songs ever" if I mean in general.

Faith No More-Last Cup Of Sorrow

Speaking of favorites.

Geez, it keeps surprising me how many of these songs I know so well when I've never listened to Faith No More on my own accord before until now. Apparently my mind does remember all of this very well from my childhood and my parents playing it.
