everyone knows that quote, "I know not what weapons World War Three will be fought, but World War Four will be fought with sticks and stones," but in a way it's optimistic and inspiring because it suggests that even after destroying civilization and returning to the stone age we'll still be sufficiently globalized and bellicose to have another world war right then and there

Hammock-Raising Your Voice...Trying To Stop An Echo.

Probably my favorite ambient artist. Ambient and post-rock mix works well, and these guys do great, unique ambient music as well. Another good one that seems to have a lot of ambient music is Brian Eno, and some of World's End Girlfriend's more ambient stuff. I actually tend to find ambient somewhat boring, even though I love mellow music, because a lot of ambient is just meh and isn't exciting.

Feed The Enemy, Magazine.

oh shit it doesn't get much better than this!

we, unlike the bourgeoisie, have nothing to lose and therefore our expression will be the only honest one, our words will be the only challenging ones and our art will be the one revolutionary expression. We need new noise and new voices and new canvases to become something more than the last poets of a useless generation.

Mirror Mirror by Blind Guardian. Best album ever made in my opinion.

"The Nixon campaign in 1968, and the Nixon White House after that, had two enemies: the antiwar left and black people. You understand what I'm saying? We knew we couldn't make it illegal to be either against the war or black, but by getting the public to associate the hippies with marijuana and blacks with heroin, and then criminalizing both heavily, we could disrupt those communities. We could arrest their leaders, raid their homes, break up their meetings, and vilify them night after night on the evening news. Did we know we were lying about the drugs? Of course we did."—former Nixon domestic policy chief John Ehrlichman

Some 1927 recording of "O Canada" played at the Peace Tower Carillon in a (very) late-night honor of our friends north of the border (yes, I'm an American) celebrating their national day.

I'm mostly here for... something to do, I suppose.
