Fun fact, the neko don't like being called "neko" because it's "embarrassing" for reasons unclear to me (maybe it's just me being a retard \_(ツ)_/).

A lot of effort went into all of their factbooks, but this would be the icing on the cake: The World Which We Wander (work underway).

I learned that the world, as the title suggests, is divided into many, many parts, and each of them are well-developed and have their very own dispatches. Now that's awesome! :3

In this world at least, it would seem like India and Burma are unified into one, called Boundsstate of Indey. Shame that Burma didn't really play much of a part there. ^^;

Belgians ethnically cleansed Wallonia... and Nord-Pas de Calais of their French-speaking majority after the second World War ended, which means that Belgium has a Dutch/Flemish speaking majority.

Miniskiev: On one hand, Miniskiev's GDP is 18 trillion dollars (I'm assuming it's USD anyway) which is certainly impressive for its size and the fact it holds relatively poor territories. On the other hand, it is at least from after 2091 which makes that GDP... not very impressive.

AN: Of the NS stats available gameside, they only use 12 criteria exactly as it is meant to. Credit where it's due, there are only 3 that they don't use at all... the rest they use differently.

One interesting thing that I've learnt about NGR's world is that the Turkish are gunning for Constantinople in what looks to be the early stages of the Alexandretta War, considering they've yet to face the full force of the European powers. To me, it does feel like a modern interpretation/spinoff of the Great Turkish War. The Treaty of Rome would've made Clemenceau blush. Honestly, that treaty was more a stain on Turkish honor rather than pockets. Well, here's hoping nothing bad follows after this in a similar vein of events in history...

North German History (Inaccurately) In A Nutshell

- World history almost normal for up to Napoleonic Wars
- Flash to 1848, Friedrich Wilhelm IV said no to the "crown from gutter"
- "All German states together would be cool"
- "Except Austria"
- Wilhelm, Bismarck and the bois came in, Schleswig War and more
- Okay North Germany was born, because screw Austria
- North Germany also became sort of peacemaker during the Scrambling for Africa
- Bismarck vs Friedrich III -- ended in snark
- Got involved in more cake-cutting issue in Africa because that's what big countries used to do
- Jump to WW1 equivalent, North Germany won but unfair treaty again will be an issue
- They also had a Weimar-kind of time in which things get lil more progressive
- WW2 happens because it is kind of bound to happen
- North Germany, Britain and the US emerge as superpower from that
- Cold War, yes. Colonies giving you middle finger, yes. Pure chaos, also yes.
- Today they are relatively more tamed but this doesn't mean North German people do not serve years in conscription.

Bloodshade Military

- They have Land, Navy and.... ARCAN FORCE. GOD HELP US.
- They have the cool stuff: plasma, particle beam and energy firearms.
- They are also into space! Considering their lore background, this makes a lot of sense.
- Overall hi-tech with small dash of fantasy thrown in, although without bullshitting that "magic make it work duh uh."

Several things, across several factbooks!

- I am very honored that Valentine Z appears as an orange cat. Mew, indeed! :3

- For the NS Stats factbook, I learned that their Defense Forces are not as high as I thought. I mean, I would at least expect it to be a red badge, or a green one, i.e. Top 5%, or Top 10%. Hmm, I always imagine Zitragrad having a grander or a bigger army, though nothing wrong with having a smaller one! ^^;

- The fact that Premier Kazimir I. Miroslavsky has 4 children is also something I just learned, and they are all rather close to each other in terms of age. Must be quite a havoc to take care of all 4 of them. ><

- Premier Kazimir I. Miroslavsky again, that he is a bisexual, which... I am finding out so much today, eh? Once again, there is nothing wrong with bisexuality and by finding out, I was just surprised, that's all! Dude definitely has a few screws loose in his head, but this one I already knew!

- As for Population and Geography, surprising that there are tens of thousands of people living in the R-zones, Radiation Zones, which I am assuming. Kinda reminds me of the people in RL Chernobyl, where they don't really tend to have the amenities and utilities that most normal folks enjoy.

Ga6MR: Holly's Home, presumably Holly's own residence in her Garden, has a total volume of 160,000 m<sup>3</sup>. The Garden's temperature goes an average of Kelvin's absolute zero all the way to a room's temperature (20-30 Celsius), though this is only due to the fact that unlike Holly, her guests, being humans, can't really survive in near-0 Kelvin temperature.

AN: Nevertopia is extremely large, and it is quite impressively underpopulated for a country with that size. Compared to OTL numbers, it is literally the size of Australia, while its population is even smaller, getting closer to the Netherlands.

A interesting mix of ideologies, mostly communist-themed and against older generations. I get dictator vibes but also a weird 90's kind of theme to their flag and propaganda. I was going to say Trotskyist Communism but he was not on their list of ideological fathers lmao 🙄

They are a constitutional monarchy based in modern day Ireland. Their nation seems to be based off of the UK.

This country does not follow my beliefs, but rather something I would find interesting.

Political Compass: -5.75, -4.87

Prorescia is a tourist friendly nation that has some of the most beautiful forests in the world. It controls a small part of current day Brazil about the size of French Guiana and is largely rural because of that with only 3 major cities, Santo Tablo, Pacifil, and Consanto Praia. The Government is Democratic and led by a Council who make most decisions. However, 5 democratically elected representatives can at any time call for a lack of faith vote which would impeach a current council member. The lack of faith vote is voted on by the populace which number in the thousands.

It is supposed to be Arendelle, but apparently Princess Elsa and Anna can't be found there, so now they're just a serious Scandinavian nation.

Their main leader can't swim.

They curbstomped the French in some battle.

Also, they're still stuck in the 19th century.

Under the constitution, the Kaiser/Kaiserin has the ultimate right to appoint a Chancellor, which might sound undemocratic at first, but in reality a political tradition is present where the candidate they "appoint" is actually someone proposed by the governing coalition of political parties.
