I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

Threads nearing its end!

Still seems to be moving at a pretty steady rate, even with me not really doing a lot of music related listening lately so I haven't posted in here much this time around. Vacation didn't help

Black Sabbath-Paranoid

Know this one too. I think it is partly to do with my dad listening to this album the most.

This song is just weird. Doesn't even sound like the same band all of a sudden.
