Jesus, now he's doing a damn funk album as "Snoopzilla". ☐
But weirdness of the whole thing aside, I think this sounds pretty damn good.

Nirvana - Blew

I was 9 when I first listened to it. It was my first Nirvana song.

Your nation is like a son. What it does right is your merit, as well as what it does wrong is your fault. When you praise it, be lucid and avoid exaggeration. Praising it too much can make it indolent. On the other hand, when you criticize it, be harsh, but do not ridicule it. Do your best to improve it, not through derision or disdain, but through good examples and dedication.

Hmm, I wasn't a fan of their hard rock singing style, but I like his singing in this.

They have a lot of music that doesn't even really have singing.

And ugh, 2 songs missing off the album Kicks Spotify

Soupcans-Crimes of the Future (Part 2)

Didn't really care for the first song I heard, but this is interesting.

Still 4 hours left of my Moore marathon, then advancing to George Thorogood.

Grandparents will be here in like, 10 hours at the minimum, so my listening to music is most likely going to die down for a little while.

Pausing my marathon for a while after this album, I just need to go out. Sun's shining and stuff. Also, I want more cola and snacks.
