- overly detailed military
- part of NATO, EU, or IC equivalent(s)
- nuclear weapons

- tricolor flag or cross w/ a defacement

Guilty

- 6 parties: nazi, hardcore conservative, conservative, liberal, social democratic, communist. no more, no less

We have 59 (don't question it), so...not guilty

- overly detailed military

I don't even have a factbook on my military, so not guilty

- part of NATO, EU, or IC equivalent(s)

Guilty, we're in a international union in our planet

- nuclear weapons

Not guilty, I haven't got to developing that section yet but I'm pretty sure that I'm not going to make my nation have nukes

- surface-level analysis

A bit guilty right now, but because I haven't gotten into the in-depth parts of my lore yet, expect it to change a bit

- doesn't use NS stats

Not guilty, I don't use some of them (Defense Forces, Population, Average Income because it's based off of Population, and a few others) but I normally use the rest for tidbits of worldbuilding

To be fair they also had a guy who had their nation execute degens.

If they try to pull that on me I'd just have Laura Ortiz mock them and laugh at them, not caring since it's their own populace, hence, guilt-tripping won't work in that case if these so-called "degens" are being killed off like cattle.

Granted I also don't understand how that would accomplish anything short of being edgy for the sake of being edgy.

The point is they are trying to anger nations that actually value human life in general, which, no offense, Gonswanza doesn't give the appearance of.

Yes but only because I accidentally scrapped half of the government with one issue, they'll be canon again in a few months probably.

- I feel like I probably do have a much healthier economy, especially per-capita, than I probably should. My main excuse for that is that it's pretty much 1894 in the rural areas and 2064 in the cities
- Oh, no, there's problems. Wildfires, poverty outside of specific pockets, no oil, frequent suicides, a civil conflict in living memory of most people, bad air, ocean acidification and sea level rise...

- Nope, though I guess this could apply to Alaska. The main thing is that they don't really want to specifically be part of the Confederacy, they just want an American army to keep them more or less independent
- I mean, I guess, but it's had a while to adjust to the new post-oil paradigm
- Nope, no space lasers. Surface to air, maybe, but they're unofficially decommissioned because of the whole... everything
- ...guilty.

I feel like not using NS stats is basically the norm on this site, at least when it comes to most forum users.

Like imagine if I used NS stats and went around saying that Gandoor's GDP is 7.29 quadrillion cuz that's what my nation's stats say.

Also TIL that the 'Average Income' stat is just your nation's GDP per capita.

HUH.

(Proof: my nation's GDP (per NS stats) is 7,294,739,000,000,000 and my nation's NS population is 28,038,000,000. Divide the GDP by population and you get 260,173.3005207219, my nation's Average Income stat is 260,173.30)

Yeah, someone using stats is the weird one.
