Deafheaven-Please Remember

I want to try and finish this album before bed, but not sure if it'll happen yet. Rather sleepy.

Baroness-Teiresias

Cleaning out a lot of the metal bands I have backed up (and removing certain albums), before going onto some of the post-rock bands with the most amount of songs, or finishing up some more progressive rock. Starting to narrow things down to only playlists of bands with more than like 50 songs I care to listen to (or well, hopefully will. Might just remove them entirely, who knows). Either way, they're getting all to rather long ones.

I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.
