"This is one of the most politically diverse and politically unique nations—er, territories I have ever seen. These mass societies reflect Leskyans' unique needs in fascinating ways. As for which I might join, hm... this might be boring of me, but the Enlightened Reasonists' interest in a constitution makes sense to me. Although I don't drink beer myself, the Beer Lovers also stand out to me for their platform of pluralism and intellectual tolerance, likely because I have to deal with a lot of pluralism as a Labor premier leading a Marxist-led coalition that includes the Lotuses, New Liberals, and Libertarians."

Labor Party, Marxist Party and Green Party are all tied, though the Green Party probably edges the other two out slightly,

I like your nation's politics; I could see myself voting for several of those parties depending on the candidates and the priorities of the time. Without a deeper context, I'll go for the Arvenian People's Democratic Movement. And I guess the Liberal Democratic Initiative or Independent Bloc ...how does one vote for an extra-parliamentary party, though?

AN: Libertarian Party of Xanthal, with Progress Xanthal a (distant) second.

BN: If you choose a party with factions (i.e. Liberal, SDP, or National), perhaps also say what faction you would most align with/vote for.

If men were angels, no government would be necessary. If angels were to govern men, neither external nor internal controls on government would be necessary. In framing a government which is to be administered by men over men, the great difficulty lies in this: you must first enable the government to control the governed; and the next place, oblige it to control itself.
