Monkey #6,456 was participating in a stunt wherein he was supposed to be launched out of a cannon across the Grand Canyon. He didn't make it far enough.

Monkey 6455 decided to build bombs for a living. They weren't very good at it.

People tend to assume that Entrance of the Gladiators by Julius Fučík is what that ever so famous circus clown theme is. And in a way, it is. Nobody would ever argue with you on this fact.

However, if you want to be an unlikable, pedantic jerk, the song actually known to be circus music would be a version composed for American woodwind bands (and later transcribed for fairground organs) titled Thunder and Blazes, published by Louis-Philippe Laurendeau.

Of course, this information is of absolutely no consequence to anyone.

Monkey 6530 broke the world speed record for street luge. He also broke the record for shortest stopping distance - zero feet - when he hit a brick wall at 70 mph.
