Depends on what kind of situation we're in with the neighbors. If we're at war with them- not much of a problem, we would fine him though. If they are in any other situation- he's going to face the executioner.

Executing law and order in areas where you need to be a policeman as a civilian (for example arresting people or giving them fines)

I don't know how an orbit can be canon, since their aren't really laws for that sort of thing. Since Loli Christians is socialist, it would probably get seized by the Church if privately owned

If a minor did it, 75k fine to their parents
If an adult did it, adult-caution if this was the first offense
If individual has had adult-caution in his record, 5 years of jail (bail-out possible)

When the crime has been done in the past: By law it is required to multiply the months since the initial crime by 1k so 36 months accumulated for over 36k in fine and if you can't pay the fine, 36 months will be added to your sentence. So to conclude, it is possible to get 8 years sentence

Technicalities, there is no rocket launcher licencing in the Union, but obtaining, possessing and using rocket launcher is clear breach of the Weapon Control Ordinance 1988, which states that "weapons that are categorised as danger level A1 to A3 is not permitted to be obtained, to be owned or to be used by civilian unless by the National Defense and Offence Unit, NDOU." Because rocket launcher is within danger level A1 to A3, as such, under the ordinance, the punishment would be imprisonment, or hefty fines.

No criminal penalty if the defendant can prove in court that:

- a) The victim was threatening their safety or the safety of others; and
- b) The defendant's use of force was proportional to the threat posed by the victim; and
- c) The defendant was unable to retreat to a place of safety (there is no duty to retreat if attacked when in one's own home)

If the defendant is unable to prove these three conditions, they would be convicted of murder (punishment: death) or voluntary manslaughter (punishment: 25 years to life imprisonment)

Minimum 30-year prison sentence for drugging someone against their will. If proven that the intention was to kidnap, an additional 5 years sentence is added.

But it doesn't end there, as the defense will have to explain and prove the reasons for the kidnapping. If the defendant's intention was to commit murder and/or rape, he could get another 50 years (which would practically make it a life sentence). If the intention was "only" to demand a ransom, another 10 years are added.

Kill someone due to political quarrel?
