"Huh. Gotta say, I'm a fan of the assertiveness with which he manages his business. The issues I have is of course that he's not exactly... well, I'm not one to preach anything as petty as ethics, but Jesus, man. This dude does not mess around. He knows what he's doing, though; whether this is a good or bad thing remains to be seen. I have a sneaking suspicion that it's a bad thing. Oh well, I'd have a drink with him. But of course, I think if we were looking at global security, something I'm admittedly not a proponent of, the best thing to do with this man is have him locked up in a dark room and never let out. Beegone, if ya get what I mean." - Monti Tchu, Rekkutomel Captain

" We will not bow to your dictation. We are free. We bled to be free. Who are you to tell us what we may and may not do? We stopped being your slaves an era ago. "

South Reinkalistan is a massive, ecologically-diverse nation notable for its roving student militias and widespread hatred for the elderly. In the midst of a room-temperature cultural revolution that's lost its momentum, the Party carefully plans its next move. As the brittle bones of fragile empires begin to crack beneath their own weight, history's symphony reaches crescendo pitch. The future is all but certain.

Windigo's Diary

Opinion on Monti Tchu

This man has fought in six wars, and has a killcount in triple digits - that's quite a captain, let me tell you... Judging from his intel, he is loyal to the crown, and monarchy. On its own, I wouldn't be sure, to what make out of that, but as far as I have heard, their king around there is typically regarded as a "deranged conservative", or even a "reactionary". And you know, how much I despise reactionaries. In the end, liberty is still our end goal, even if it requires temporary despotism, in order to root out the seed of the evil. Sorry, but right now, he is not a man, which I like too much. Although, if the republicans were totalitarians/authoritarians too, then there might not have been much choice in the first place - I will remain open to options.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

Saint Empire de la Chrétienté

The heathens finally defeated, Christendom would eventually solidify its control over the whole of the Levant. Frankish territories in Eastern Europe and the Crusader States of the Holy Land were merged into a reborn Roman Empire that stretched from Epirus to Cyrene. The ancient empire continues to exist in the modern age as a center of Christian zealotry as well as pilgrimage. Led by the mighty Roman Emperor, and ever adherent to the Catholic Church, the Empire resolutely preserves its traditions and faith within an age of apostasy.

hell would you punish me with the concept of 'Twin Queens'? One queen was enough!

Anyways, while I am rather put off by this system of governance, I'm still rather pleased with most of your policies. No, it isn't hypocritical to admire a monarch but hate monarchism. Yes, I admit that a few tolerable apples can appear in the system of monarchism and I will give credit where it's due. I mean, I truly don't mind you two ladies helping the poor and weak of your society. In fact, I praise you for such a policy!

Still though, you have a lot of room to improve. Like, I know men have their issues but come on, they're not born to be brutes, sent to kill and die in war. Always remember, judge one by their character, not their biological sex!

Also, what's with the 'holier than thou' attitude? Actually, never mind, the Elves around here are just as arrogant and prissy as you are. Chances are they're even more pompous than you'll ever be and no, I'm probably not trying to undermine your confidence.

In conclusion, you have the potential to be tolerable in my books. Just tone down the arrogance and treat men equally." - Ambrosia

He shares many of my ideology. I believe Military Interventionism is necessary in some cases whether it is morally right or wrong. Strict immigration is also an ideal that I share with him since I believe that immigration would lead to religious terrorism or destruction of culture. He also cares about the environment. I believe both of us would create an alliance and I would like to have a diplomatic relations.
