Our only defense branch is the Space Force, and if you seriously are able to steal an escape shuttle or pod and navigate to a habitable planet, we will simply simply question you and then enroll you into the rehabilitation program.

Not a crime as long as the explosion is really cool. But if it isn't, then they are sentenced to recreating the explosion until it is cool. Cool by definition is determined by how many witnesses were temporarily blinded by the blast.

Streaking in public without a license.

Not a crime in times of war. Eight months hard labor on outer world penal colony if not.

Hijacking a train. However during said hijacking, they cause the train to jump the rails and hit an orphanage for cancer survivors and abused dogs. There are are fatalities and injuries but the criminals have only minor injuries.
