In any event, the enigma that is Mr. Pickett is not a man I would wish to spend any significant period of time with. His is the path of barbarism. He is a liar, a thief, and a bald-faced hypocrite. The ascent to godhood is one which is blind to race. But Mr. Pickett has never tasted true power anyways. He is a joke; a sad, pathetic joke told by elementary school children. I will oppose signing any NAPs with his state and consider said state a trade rival for as long as he remains in power. There is nothing he has that I could want that I do not believe I could take by force."

"Yes, yes, of course. I will agree to your NAP, after getting my legal team to read over it first. You don't think someone in my position is going to agree to something without extensively reading it first, do you? It's strictly good business practice. If all works out well, yes, I would very much like to broker a deal.

Yes, identity politics. Oh, it is more than just a means to pander to progressives. I have found that good employees and bad employees can be found among any race, sex, or sexual orientation. I see no need to get in the way of it, as a result, and instead judge each employee on their own personal merits. If someone is a good fit for a particular job, I will offer them that job, regardless of other factors. Plus, I've found it is a good way to sell people things. You'd be surprised how many people want rainbow colored grips for their pistols. That was quite lucrative back in the day. Oh, and don't think that just because I care about identity politics means I care about the so-called class struggle. Money is the true power, and true power transcends all other barriers."

"Gold? Gold is not money. Silver is not money. Economic buying power is money. Money is what makes the market turn. It can be any commodity. You misunderstand a basic principle of my system. Recruits are clients. Recruits need food to eat, water to drink, shelter to sleep in, medicine for when they get hurt or sick, weapons and ammunition for protection, and more. Where do you think they get these things? They buy it from me. Recruits and customers are one and the same. The world may have ended, the infrastructure crumbling, and the economy of old rendered nigh gone, but economic principles have not changed, merely the commodities traded. As long as I control the resources, I control the money. Anything can be money - the world was crazy about cryptocurrencies in the before-times, and that was a money that only ever existed as digital information. Much like the paper money in use at that time, it only had a value because people agreed that it did. Anything can be money if everyone wants it and not everyone has it. Of course, I doubt a socialist dictator would ever understand the true value of money. After all, you're just giving away valuable commodities like medicine. I could send an economist to teach you the finer points of capitalism, but I doubt a socialist like yourself would be inclined to learn anything."

TO: COMMISSAR LAKERSK TURNOV

Comrade Turnov,

I write to you today to inform you of a most egregious threat to the P.F.R.; one commanded by a bombastic fool by the name of "Shawn", whose domain is called "Skyhooked". I am loathe to reference anarchists in our frequent communications - there is a reason that they were dealt with in the revolution - but this abhorrent menace cannot be allowed to go unchecked.

I am sure you are familiar with Skyhooked. We all are. Shawn is the puppet of their "council" who was dragged off the streets after displaying token acts of frankly worrying stupidity disguised as heroism, and now serves as a figurehead for the nation. It also appears that he was involved in the deposition and murder of Comrade Kim Jong-un and the annexation of the D.P.R.K., meaning that he is - in essence - a dangerous counterrevolutionary terrorist whose worrying tendencies should be monitored.

Besides that, there is not much else to say. He is a decadent hedonist, who enjoys artificial pleasures never meant for mortal man regularly. If anything, we will not have to feel bad for him when he is eventually killed. Such is an inevitability -- I am confident you will make sure of that.

Yours,

To South Reinkalistan

"Let's see what we have today, This is a remarkable story and I have to congratulate the people of Reinkalistan for their efforts, they have shown me that I am wrong and that even my worst imaginings of the nature of humanity were too optimistic, A system of ultimate evil where the state, the people and God own the honest work of the people, and at the top of such a perverted system lies the so-called "premier" Turaninski, A man whose actions make people like Diasgen Fahrein look decent, a leech who got his power in a way not unlike the monarchic powers of the south, a crusader against freedom and the rights of the people, People like this make me wish something like hell existed just to see it burn for eternity"

To AN

"Ah, I see that this monarch is afraid, too comfortable on his golden throne and too afraid that his beloved status quo might fall at any moment, you do well to fear the Emperor, because when the people realize the lies your government feeds them, when they realize that their work belongs only to them and not to some fancy inbred family or the unproductive members of society, then heads will roll.

his lack of censorship of the press has made the culture of Extimia flourish, but, on the other hand, he is blinded by the perception of a perfect society where no person is disabled or disadvantaged to the point of abolishing welfare. In fact, my sheer lack of respect has lead to my decision to refuse to speak to you with a common language. I will be sure to hire a translator for the next time we correspond"

"The subject is hereby classified as minimal threat. Professional assessment is that she will not be a suitable trade partner, and that contact should be avoided as it might well bring undue harm to them. Personal assessment: She is in over her head. I believe that's the correct phrase... yes. She cannot reliably keep a secret, and it speaks to the nature of her constituency that she would be granted leadership as a get-well-soon card." -Ilia

"Jesus christ, what's wrong with your eyes! They're like empty holes of pure black voidness!"

Anyways, the 'save the children' mentality reeks of soccer mom mentality, but I guess her support for science makes her much better than actual soccer moms. I also appreciate that she is willing to go into the frontlines."

No, it is not the Confederate States of America. No, it's not the South either. SU stands for 'States and Unions'. The right acronym is RCAS. Please read the Factbook.

"It didn't take long for me to realize that this overgrown baboon is no more than a waste of space his world has to, sadly, take care of. Where do I start? I really don't wish to spend too much of my time in this waste of cells, actually. Pickett will get what is coming for him, be it because of his narcissism, his racism, his opposition to sane ideals... I don't give a shit about his immortality, you can't escape from STDs buddy, and I'm sure your "wife" has a lot of them."

Oswald's Mood: Kaiserrich-like

"To think this is the person who, rather humiliating, stands no taller than 4'10" is the same person who fashions himself as having 'godhood' and proclaiming it before the people; he is the same person who went on to fashion his own leftist beliefs which panders to white nationalists of his country, thus he proclaimed his bold and impudent statement that he is against social welfare whenever it benefited to people he disregards as subhumans. Whatever suits him, he will no doubt be forever regarded as a spiteful hypocrite."

- His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of the Imperial Fatherland, Oswald I

AN:

"While I would take her previous comment as offensive, calling me a 'conservative moron' and all, I will let that pass for the mean time. But now the utmost importance for me regarding Frau Escobar should be about her politics and the institutions she put in place—perhaps most notably her response to a pandemic which swept across her country, and of all the people I've seen so far, she did a...well...a splendid job on her quick response to the pandemic, handling it much better than the Russy Federation during their nation-wide famine. 'Better safe than sorry' goes the saying. One of her policies, however, are a bit discomforting for some reason. While the Imperial military excels in three forms of warfare, Tamakuni's Army would be a challenge. Fortunately we don't live in the same world and time period, because if we would there would be much more trouble for my home than hers if we both engaged in conflict."
