Literally a crime against humanity, life imprisonment, possible solitary confinement if the judge sees fit. Pardon, parole, and commutation of sentence is stripped from the perpetrator if the evidence presented is evident/strong.

Perjury?

After being tied, the offender's tongue is ripped half off, and their cheeks are hollowed out while their lips are burnt.

Several simulated death sentences in CyberSpace, and simulated ~~torture~~ enhanced interrogation to reveal information, followed usually by Extreme Time Dilation Prison (worse and longer than regular time dilation) and possible real life execution if the supreme leader signs a death warrant.

Treating a robot as an equal

La Ferra Suprema Reigns Supreme over the vast lands of Stella Nera
A land where humanity is king, above god and devil alike. A blissful Utopia for Humanity, a horrible Dystopia for sentient robots.

Robots shouldn't have rights or citizenship;
Compromise on other non-human sapient entities is possible, with limitations, but not on these buckets of bolts. They should serve humanity and have absolutely no place in society other than as our servants. Think of the benefits of this. Plus, they would almost certainly overtake humanity if we gave them the chance, whether out of pure advanced abilities or malice, or worse, both. Think of humanity.

Humanity First!

Life sentence, given medicine from a psychiatric hospital.

Following a "how to make drugs" tutorial posted on a meme making website similar to imgflip*, which in the process of following the illegal instructions, causes an explosion in your basement.

*And the stream in question has VERY lenient moderators with only a few of the moderators actually caring about what is and isn't legal. It's only a matter of time before someone purges the moderator list.

According to Eastplatine law, engaging in such actions is most likely to result in the death penalty, with hanging as the designated method of execution, all properly shielded from public view, as to preserve decency and order. However, due to the severity of the crimes, particularly the horrifying act of killing an innocent deer, there is a risk that an enraged crowd might take matters into their own hands before the official authorities intervene, or they may intentionally opt not to intervene, deeming it too troublesome to quell the crowd, allowing them to do with the criminal as they please, administering justice in an "informal" way. This "informal justice" often involves methods like tarring and feathering for humiliation, physical beatings, torture, and public lynchings, depending on the whims of the crowd in that moment.
