Apparently, Valcris is the richest country on the planet by far, surpassing modern-day US' economy 10 times over. Also, according to it's factbooks, it's the home of a highly intelligent society. How they can achieve 232 fucking trillion EUROS? I don't know.

Only 5% of their population identify as nationalist. That's... really strange, to be honest. Unless this concerns hardline nationalism in particular, in which case fair enough.

When concerning Inkopolitian Nationalism, it's concerning the inherent believe that Inklings and Inkopolitia are superior over Humans and Human countries (Kind of like American exceptionalism, but with race put into it). Luckily, this dangerous number of 5% is decreasing.

Well that's not really nationalism in the traditional sense then. Closer to racial supremacy.

Despite the nation being relegated to 3 main islands and hundreds of smaller islets in the East China Sea, Teienshi has a population of 9 million people. Ever since the British gave the islands independence in 1952, the young nation grew exponentially, being a formidable hub of technology and progress in the world.
