Ajattara-Ikuisen Aamun Sara

In my opinion, probably their best album, yet it's the lowest rated on RYM. People like this, "Is there really only one acoustic guitar? Is this Acoustic Black Metal? It's really dissonant. Headache after 4 songs. I don't understand, what's behind the concept.", and "What is this I don't even Seriously though, what the fuck!?! It's like it isn't even the same band..." rating it low doesn't help any.

Of course, people can have their opinions, but still...

I think the fact it's like an acoustic black metal/folk black metal album, and how they do it is partly why I like it. Hell, my dad was listening to this band and I liked the above song before I even really could tolerate black metal period.

My dad says his work at the moment is too easy ☐. But he wants to stay on the job at least until October, but he pretty much told his work that if he can't get a raise by then (He's supposed to be making $40 an hour normally, and he's making $20 an hour and says it is too easy, though he did focus more on a career path into video games instead so things have changed), that he needs a new job, because we barely scrape by with $20 an hour.

Ah, life...

Lisa Gerrard-Paikea Legend (Whale Rider Soundtrack)

Probably my favorite movie when I was like 10. Then when I was 12 or 13 that became Bridge to Terabithia (for multiple reasons...)

Sits at his computer with nothing to do but listen to music right now...

Lisa Gerrard-Biking Home

The funny thing is, this is probably my least favorite song on the ~~album~~ soundtrack and it's the happiest.

everyone knows that quote, "I know not what weapons World War Three will be fought, but World War Four will be fought with sticks and stones," but in a way it's optimistic and inspiring because it suggests that even after destroying civilization and returning to the stone age we'll still be sufficiently globalized and bellicose to have another world war right then and there

I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

Olivier Deriviere-Fragments (Remember Me Soundtrack)

Soundtrack has a cool mix of glitchy electronics and orchestral music, but the orchestral music kinda gets boring, especially on the ones WITH only orchestral music. Still an interesting mix that I suggest for anyone interested in unique soundtracks. The mix of Theramin is also really cool.
