If you have one or more stars in the flag (which are not red otherwise communism, Stalin, gulag!) then it means you are a federation.

I think more than one star counts as a federation, is Texas a federation? I don't think so.

Can someone explain the AN endings thing to me? Like I've seen (not watched) an 'endings' video or two on YouTube before. I am getting old and need this explained.

Cancel culture has claimed another victim in the form of DA ORK.

That and just copying some work of fiction probably amount to 99% of nations on this site tbh.

oh uh i'm totally not guilty of this yeah no totally not 🙄

75 whole years after the world is saved from the Darker Lord in the realm of Miitopia, it has fallen into chaos. New Lumos plans to invade the mainland continent, Karkaton is in a brutal civil war, and things are not going well for the Realm of the Fey. Who will reign supreme in these dire times?

I feel like colors being associated with ideology is kinda silly.

America (Democracy) has Red, White, Blue
Britain (Democratic) has Red, White, Blue
France (Democratic) has Red, White, Blue
North Korean Flag (Not Democratic) has Red, White, Blue
Russia (Fake Democracy) has Red, White, Blue
Thailand (Military controlled "Democracy") Red, White, Blue
(Also notable, all of these flags use red yet none of them are communist [Juche was declared by Kim to be distinct from communism])

Laos is also red white and blue, and is a communist dictatorship.
Luxembourg is a different shade of blue.

People who have military factbooks but then their military equipment is a bunch of stuff they just thought was cool..

...but in reality all of it uses different measurement standards, or avionics, or weaponry or parts yadda yadda.

I dunno. This is a tiny thing that's more for my other hardware geeks here but I see it a lot 😊

Cliche: writers having seemingly little sense of scale.

I am definitely guilty of this, some guy pointed out in "What have you learned after reading the ANs factbooks" that somehow my lowest point was -35km, which by some means I failed to notice was deeper than the Mariana Trench (it's 11km). Also took note of my old highest point, which was way, WAY higher than Mount Everest, perhaps literally out of the atmosphere at over about 350km.

I find this especially grating with small arms when they decide they need to have 5 different assault rifles, all in different calibers.
