If you are a politician, you run the risk of losing your job and the possibility of aspiring to the same position, even if you get to join other parties. In case of a civilian 1 or 2 years in jail and forced to community work for 3 or 4 years after serving the time in jail.

Ninja'd

Hmm, It depends on the severity of the accident and if there were deaths, as well as checking if there is use of drugs that altered the driver's condition. If there were deaths and you escaped the scene, you can get 5 years in prison, and it can go much higher if you are under the influence of substances

Not paying child support
