Gesists are invisible magic-users impossible to harm through corporeal means; basically magic-equipped poltergeists.

I don't use NS stats, please refer to the factbooks. Terms to use: Cybus, Cybusian, The Infinite Cybusian Empire. Feel free to TG with suggestions, comments, feedback, questions, etc, especially about factbooks.

That they are really old as a civilization and somehow haven't turned into Star-Gods as a result.

(Seriously mate, 1 Trillion years BC was the founding date?)

The world came to be dominated by sentient cetapods after humanity went extinct. These creatures are known as 'inklings', and their society is surprisingly similar to humans.

Partially inspired by the Third Odyssey mod for EU4, this nation is essentially a Byzantine successor state in South America that has fused together Ancient Greek Religion with Greek Orthodox Christianity. It mixes the aesthetic of Byzantium and Ancient Greece, with very open and liberal social values but with an Imperial Monarchy. NS stats are referenced but are not strictly followed to a T.

What I learnt after reading it? Spirituality yet with conflict. Is what I got from the information provided.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

Hurricanes turned out to actually be sentient beings made of wind with a humanoid form, and the UN was converted into the International Hurricane Protection Alliance. There was a war between the humans and the "huricans," and the humans won. But Windeol was founded afterward as the first country completely governed by huricans.

If I understand correctly, Hatsunia is in the current modern era, and has somehow managed to construct a 1.5km tall skyscraper in their capital city. There has to be some issue with elevators, right?

Anyway, this skyscraper is mainly to alleviate a housing crisis, which makes sense as they seem to have a higher population density than megacities like New York and Tokyo. There are probably more efficient ways to manage that, though, but the badge of a 1.5km tower is probably good for prestige and tourist purposes as well.
