However, there is one small ideal that I do have a problem with. It's not the whole private property, as I've come to accept people will have problems with that. A lot of your anti opinions I agree with. It's the fact you

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

Though, I totally have come to appreciate it. Comment on it more, and I'll personally leave you hanging from a tree like a n-----. Hehe.

S-Still, that kike is such a BIG MEANY! WMMMAAAAAAHHHHH! He made me cry for a whole hour about how inadequate I am. That is until I found what I had packing the entire time. Then, I felt better. I mean, he probably is lacking skin in places and has pathetic armaments compared to me. Such a sad Senite.

Also, the average American citizen is well...A GOD! You know, since I gave them all ascension. I'd tell you how, but you don't deserve that tech.

Anyways, about you...I can't really talk much about you personally. You got glasses and look like an office worker. Honestly, you seem like the epitome of the sort of power-hungry pencil pushers that ended up taking over single-party states in the 20th century. Oh, you call yourself a Messiah too. Pfft. Messiahs are nothing compared to gods. Did you offer your followers immortality? All you offered is the shithole that is the Middle East. Really, you folks have no business in the Middle East, but hey, not like I care about sandh-----s. And, if you bring up the Native Americans, I'll personally go full Custer on your ass! Trust me, you never want me to go full Custer on your ass. It'll be sore like the babies you circumcised.

Your theocracy is retarded and reminds me too much of those New Canaanites, who also believed they were God's chosen albeit in a different way. You insulted me AND my people. That and you're kind of a dictatorial asshole. So, yeah. Get fucked!

Seriously, I'm starting to get antisemites now, though all the Jews I met in my timeline are cool."

Opinion on Ambrosia

A significant portion on this will be directed towards dissecting her political views, with little room for personal life. Let's start with her in civil rights, and environmental sphere... It is very good, that she protects various minorities from discrimination, and also has made advances in terms of women's rights. However, let's hope, that she is also ready to defend those rights from reactionaries, who would want to abolish them - with force, if necessary. Her establishment for zoos is also good, in order to protect the species. Usually animals are out from my main priorities, but I still hope, that they will not go extinct, and have a good life. Sometimes, when living a partisan's life, and having to scavenge/get food myself, I have had to hunt animals, sadly...

It is good, that while she legalized drug trade, she didn't also leave it up to vile men from cartels, and actually established a reliable, safe channel. Her welfare programs, and poverty reliefs overall are good too, and a big improvement over those creepy libertarians, and "socially liberal, fiscally conservative" types. However, her foreign policy is where our first major disagreements would start to kick in - I know, that she doesn't want her citizens to die in pointless wars, but in my opinion, some interventionism, and militarism is needed, if your nation has enemies on all sides, just like us. In such case, sending in agitators to hostile neighbors, and threatening MAD is a necessary evil, as tyrants will not give up their power voluntarily.

As for the rest of the political stuff, I mostly agree with her on things like healthcare, culture, and so on. Now, for her personal life... I know, that she loves her family, and I love my one as well. In fact, loving your fellow comrades just like you would love your family is a good way, of how to establish a strong bond, and ensure less desertions. However, you must also be wary of family at the same time, as they often know your weakest spots, and if enemies play their cards right, they might get them to reveal those spots.

"After all these years, the great Britisg Empire still lives... albeit in a different form, all these former colonies now nations under some sort of commonwealth... and without the United States? A shame. I trust it we beat Napoleon somehow... which is a good sign. Anyway, I have no formal opinion on her, though I do question how she looks so useful despite no apparent vampiric genes."

Current year: 1795

Set in an alternate timeline where less-aggressive and civilised vampires roam Europe and mainly Transylvania, home of the infamous Vlad Draculesi long ago, think of what would happen if JoJo's Bizarre Adventure: Phantom Blood meets Game of Thrones meets The Duellists meets War and Peace, Complete with the revolutionary-king-but-also-asshole Dionisie Brancoveanu under tension against his vengeance-lusted brother, now King of Hungary, Ionatan!

Hmm. A vampire? I thought they only existed in stories meant to scare children? I guess they are actually real, which is pretty cool to see. As I am now envisioning an extension to Wonder Arms by kidnapping all of these bloodsuckers to modify to be fantastic war machines to make the battlefield more nightmarish for enemy soldiers facing an enemy with a vampire legion at their command to drain their bodies dry, when unleashed. I can see it now, the films, the shows, the new stories to terrify children and the fortunes raining in, as buyers demand to have more and more of these parasites to deal with their foes. Hm, I'll have to start cloning them as I doubt the Transylvanian populace will have enough offspring for me to use, they'll become extinct like the dinosaurs and be replaced by artificial vampires. It is a sad thought but that is the cost of wanting to enrich oneself.

Nevertheless, Dianisie's leadership is quite impressive he's not as barbaric compared to me, when I want to get what I want by all means authorized. His love for his people is absolutely adorable and protecting his kin is just so cute. They have prosperity greatly thanks to his rise to power, it is a poetic tragedy that this will all come to end, when WonderTech comes to town....It brings a golden tear down my face...

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

"Among all these odd personae, from ages far in advance of anything conceivable, I find one who seems far closer to my world - at least, in terms of general styling. And he is a warrior. One who has fought valiantly to protect that which he desires to preserve - in this case, his world and people. While I may disagree on points of... personal motivation, I can nevertheless respect him. In a field of pacifists and weaklings, he certainly stands out - to have thrown himself at such an overwhelming foe, risked life and limb with reckless abandon... I would like to meet him on the field of battle, someday."

I kind of enjoy reading about his quotes, they are interesting. Maybe we could learn a little bit more about him by reading what he really minds. As I think that what you say, if you say it with your own feelings, and without the aim of lying, determinates completely what you are, and this man is interesting. By his quotes I can think that he is serious, maybe masonic (not freemasonic!) and he may enjoy reading about phylosophers. He also looks like that kind of grandfather you see in movies that talks to his grandson about his knowledge and wisdom, while showing him the wonders of Earth and nature, the physics of the universe and the law, and he may teach his people to manner properly. I can even think that he enjoys doing trips to nature after spending some time in the bar, and learn about things by experimentating with it instead of reading about it. I like this man.

Hm. What a depressing set of photographs to describe the fall of your regime at the end of the war, a nation destroyed by the enemy in the shadows. All that you fought and stood for, gone in instant. Whatever is left is now preyed upon by the vultures like myself. Taking the greatness that was, corrupting it into something wicked and unrecognizable to fill the vulture's belly as the bird tears off the flesh and cut the organs from the corpse of a fallen empire...I how this prediction for your own sake doesn't come true. I would rather not be the vulture that comes to feed on Ateria's corpse, if at all possible.
