My country may seem memey at times, and that's fine. I like a mix of fun and serious. I also have to work with a nation I made when I was in fourth grade.

Am I even on NS anymore?

My nation - which is pretty much just a unified Korea with some extra territory - represents my real views, as does pretty much anything I say on the forums. NS stats only broadly representative. Feel free to call me Q&K, Quartia, or any other nickname.

Named posthumously after the great Purnelewian scientist Henry J Passek, the Passek scale is used to determine the severity and scope of anomalous events and entities by gauging the distance between reality and the void.

My nation is new and I haven't fully got factbooks up yet, so feel free to skip me if you feel that I don't have enough content to respond to.

I have to agree here

I use all NS stats (even the dumb ones like weather) except for population
Most of my lore is spread around the forums (In cases of conflict, the most recent is canon) because I can't be bothered to make a factbook for everything.
There is no prize for finding all of it, not even bragging rights. Why would you brag about something like that?

What's the deal with rainbows? I mean sure, they are pretty, but why do people think they're gay? So there's a rainstorm, then it stops and the sun comes out. When people look at the new rainbow, do people think, "Oh, it's pretty!", or do they think, "That's gay"? What is up with that?
