I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

Kendrick Lamar - Keisha's Song (Her Pain) (ft. Ashtro Bot)

I'm not bashing his music, but he's an egotistical asshole, and I see no way to argue against that. He may be talented (Or at least better than a lot of the more popular hip-hop), but he still comes off as having an extremely huge ego and a jerk.

I've actually liked a bit of what I've heard of his stuff, which isn't much, just because it doesn't sound like everything else.

Calling yourself the "King of Rock", or however he worded it, and the new Jimi Hendrix is dumb in my opinion. Especially when you're not rock.

Beirut-On A Bayonet

I agree, but I've seen some interviews of him. He seems pretty shy. Only when he expresses him throughout music, media and stuff like that he seems really like an asshole. But it doesn't really bother me. To me, he just makes good music. Yeezus ofcourse, didn't appeal to me as much as MBDTF did, but I'm still getting what Kanye is trying to do, I enjoy it genuinly. Kanye to me is quite a genius. But you know, opinions.

It doesn't for me, either. I just ignore it. I'm sure plenty of people I listen to are assholes. Appreciate the music, and ignore the individual. I just don't need to hear a Spotify advertisement go on about him and act as if it is praising his egotistical attitude.

I still haven't listened to any Kanye West enough to have an opinion on his music and how much I think he is a genius/talented.
