Waisnor was first established as a multi tribal state way back in the 6th century AD, and they seem to be rather proud of their Eurovision performances.

Also, they apparently have a football team called Torpedo, which is kinda funny.

Pulsroth is a flawed democracy with an index of 7.01 which is admittedly rare for "democratic" NS nations.

The Avant-Gardist State of Patagonia ~~ Gauchos and Mapuches, orgies and parties, avant-garde art, futurism, syndicalism, the New Man, general strikes, the glorification of violence, spiritual nationalism, esoteric occultism, CIA spooks, Spartanian homosexuality, public sodomy, and more*

Ahem, where do I start again?

After Le Patron was murdered by...I think it was Dubya Bush? I may be wrong, but after he was murdered by Dubya on a Metal Gear, Patagonia split into quite a lot of parts, most notably, one ruled by Argentines, and one ruled by Nazis.

Well then, guess that I'd rather move elsewhere.

PMT/Early FT - Decopunk. Zitragrad is a crowned republic in a planet somewhere else in the universe. The formerly wartorn nation keeps a facade of normalcy and order while enjoying the societal and cultural decadence that marks the new Roaring Twenties. The paranoid authoritarian government tries its best to uphold order in the face of uncertainty, while its people want nothing more than a breathing space. A deal that works, but maybe not in the long run. |

In the 1960s, two Pohneian generals were assassinated. The remaining generals blamed it on communists with ties to Kergstan, but it was actually done by the people who once ruled Pohnei as a colony. Kergstan intervened to stop the re-colonization of Pohnei, but that also gave legitimacy to the notion that this was all the communists' fault.

Waisnor borders Belarus

Hatsunia: Hatsunia, possessing one of the largest videogame industries in the world, is marked by the technological advancement of the country overall. The country's videogame industry is reportedly a pioneer in many advanced videogame technologies, for example, 8-bit videogames, invented by Hatsunese individuals. The country's e-sports scene is gigantic, with top players earning more than a hundred thousand dollars per year and stadiums being routinely packed and millions more watching by streams.

Also, one of their best-selling games is called Mine the World. It is an open sandbox game developed in 2009.

The name of their intelligence agency Apartment 4 is related to a previous ruler creating a number of agencies that were designated as 'apartments', though little explanation is given to the reason for that specific word in the original name. Apartment 4 is the only one of ten apartments that survives in its modern form.

Thank you for pointing out my oversight, I updated the factbook to give a reason as to why they're called "Apartment 4".

Pakistan as a state doesn't seem to exist, as the Anglo-Indian partition of Baluchistan -which is now a province of Pakistan OTL- is independent as a state. Similarly, Iraqi and Turkish Kurdistan are independent -which makes me wonder what happened to Turkey in that timeline.
