Anti-regime thoughts definitely don't count as a crime. Ya know, freedom of speech and stuff. ^^

Anti-regime actions with violence involved would definitely be a crime, and can result in fines or imprisonment—depending on how severe those actions were.

How about involuntary manslaughter?

Involuntary manslaughter usually ends with a sentence of 10-15 years, though this sentence can change based on the circumstances surrounding the crime.

Prostitution/Soliciting Sex

In Syn City, it is perfectly legal and regulated as long as the prostitute is 18 or older. It is illegal in the rest of the country and will result in 5-10 years.

Legally considered as a treason, 10 to 45 years of prison depending on the offender and proscribed from any government position.

Forging obviously impossible high bank notes (making a million value banknote when your currency allows up to a thousand only).

Just creating it itself is probably not an offense, but if you are trying to use it to purchase something, then it could count as fraud in which could range between 10-15 years in prison, depending on how much they are trying to buy.

Intentionally staging an emergency on a flight and then making a crash landing and killing half of the people on board.

Nation's views are NOT representative of my political views IRL, although some views may or may not match. Will NOT disclose which views specifically.

NS stats (civil rights/economy/political freedoms) mostly NOT canon. There are some civil rights and liberties and political freedoms in Vertillia but the government is mostly authoritarian, especially when it comes to immigration, climate change, crime, and punishment.

Expect a knuckle sandwich to the face either by the Judge throwing his hammer or from the prisoners and a 10 to a 25 year sentence.

Would be charged under Mass Environmental Pollution which carries a sentence between 20 to 30 years in jail for the severity of the crime, a fine upwards of $1 billion dollars and being restricted from operating a industrial or commercial business involving anything that makes or operates of anything that can harm the environment.
