I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

Singing along to this song out loud in your parents house, even though they're all asleep, feels weird...

Electric Wizard-...A Chosen Few

Pretty much the exact same album as Dopethrone. Not sure I really care about Electric Wizard to again listen to the same thing on another album.

Fear Factory - Escape Confusion

Back from when Fear Factory was still heavily influenced by Napalm Death.

Dopethrone is essential, everything else is more or less just "good" or less.

Boris-Jackson Head

Boris still jumps around quite a lot from different sounds, they just...don't seem to do it that excitingly anymore.
