'Walking on a Dream' - Empire of the Sun

Very soft
Song

Feeder - World Asleep
Sometimes I forget how awesome this band's early work is.

You better sleep with one eye open. The Ghost of Comrade Mussolini may come to take your Taylor Swift-listening soul.

I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

Interesting. Caught my attention over a lot of these stereotypical-sounding Post-Rock bands on this "top 300 post rock songs" list. I do admit Post-Rock bands, even when more boring, do know how to make a good peaceful song, and long song. Just a lot of the bands I heard were way too straightforward-sounding post-rock for my liking. I am finding a fair amount of bands that grab my attention on this, though.

IN BATTLE THERE IS NO LAW by Bolt Thrower

brvtal

we, unlike the bourgeoisie, have nothing to lose and therefore our expression will be the only honest one, our words will be the only challenging ones and our art will be the one revolutionary expression. We need new noise and new voices and new canvases to become something more than the last poets of a useless generation.
