I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

Blaudzun - Heavy Flowers

Blaudzun seriously is the best artist from my country (the Netherlands). His second album Heavy Flowers is absolutely stunning. If you're into alternative/indie/folk music, check him out.

Now I'm really going back to old school Porcupine Tree. Now it's psychedelic rock and space rock. There seems to be a dramatic sound change from album 3 to album 4.
