I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

The only way I can truly describe this song is with three words:

It's fucking awesome.

That's the first album I listened to. I don't particularly remember it very good at the moment, but I liked it, definitely. Terra Hidria is still one of my favorites.

"Never Surrender" by Corey Hart. The sax riff makes me weak at the knees.

Formerly Banglerlands. I came back after realizing how much I miss this screwball place.

I'm a 25 year old American guy originally from New York. Unfortunately, I'm stuck in the south. Someone come shoot me, please.

Pro: Capitalism, right-wing economics, gun rights, LGBT rights, green energy, low taxation, Reaganomics, military, individual freedom, legal immigration
Anti: Socialism, communism, abortion, religious extremism, political correctness, Obamanomics and Obamacare, Keynesian economics, censorship, illegal immigration

Social Libertarian/Authoritarian: -2.97

Most in New Banglerlands are of British, American or Canadian descent. As such, we have a similar society to these nations.
