"The filthy anarchists show their depraved faces once more. This one bears a dwarven family name, but is clearly not dwarven. I care little what species he thinks he is, he brings dishonor to his species through uncivilized thought and blasphemous deed. There is no discussion to be made with them, no talk to be had, for they have rejected the very foundation upon which civilization is built. All that can be done is sending them to the Ferryman, hastening them on their way to the Eternal Cycle. There is nothing for them in this life but to die that civilization might be better in their absence. I'm sure we have some crusaders to spare on a holy war against these disgusting and blasphemous anarchist plebeian scum. Perhaps they can pillage me some alcohol and artwork."

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

"Wide sections of her life seem unavailable in these files... but I do not usually make comments based on that. To begin with, Empress Akeldama Ekhnukhi is a monarch. I have stated, again and again, my staunch opposition to monarchies as the maximum representation of regressive privileges and perhaps the worst form of government out there. This time is no different. Her policies seem to appeal more to populism for fear of losing her decidedly undeserved position than anything else, and they do not go nearly far enough as required"

"The Paramount is not a supreme being. No matter what it says, it cannot be trusted. It is my belief that certain measure of purity needs to be present in making decisions. Not innocence, more like a sense of humanity. The Paramount is a machine. Clinical. Detached. Uncaring. I said it before, and it must be said again, if it holds the supreme power to save its people, it can easily be used to dominate them."

-Chancellor Erik Vyndor, Catholic Federation of Ithallis.

Ithallians are the definition of unconquerable. They are bound by a brotherhood that can only be forged in a war, for Ithallians, all of them, know the cost of freedom. As long as you respect them and are faithful in your dealings with them, Ithallians will treat you like a member of that family. If not...they don't tend to leave survivors...
