Monkey 6851 Spent a lifetime (Two, considering the average lifespan of a monkey in this world) trying to discover the great secret of his kind. Why had so many died? He was determined to discover what driving force was creating such tragedies. He followed the incidents back, further and further, until he found the first. After so many years, he could finally have the answers... he opened the report with glee. "Monkey 10000 jumped off a cliff while blindfolded." He now discovered that his life was meaningless. This solved nothing. This proved nothing. All of his research had amounted to nothing. Looking back, he didn't know what he had expected. Some great secret? Some great tragedy? In this moment of sadness, it came to him. He reached the truth. And it was glorious.

The police search was inconclusive. 6581 left no evidence of his disappearance, save for a single note. It had seemingly no significance, because all that been written on it seemed like incoherent scribbles. The police accepted it into evidence, though it contained no information. The head investigator, monkey 6580, decided to read it one more time before throwing it away. 6581 had been ruled dead earlier that day, but something compelled him to read it anyway. The letters danced to life beneath his eyes. 6580 knew what had to be done...

Monkey 6850 noticed that Monkey 10000 jumped off a cliff while blindfolded and concluded that the blindfold shouldn't make any difference. He jumped off a cliff without a blindfold and proved his theory.

6341 escaped the dynamite building explosion only to be offered a ride in a dynamite truck by a demented duck who kept all of the fuses lit "just in case".

The Karevkan Soviet Union is an alternate history Russia whose history is mostly the same (although under a different name) until the Karevkan Revolution in 1917. More progressive in its policies than the IRL Soviet Union it has a market socialist economy and more civil rights and freedoms.
