That you shouldn't ignore the warnings that say "Read X dispatch first" because then, their ridiculously OP projects make no sense, other than being OP of course, that's enough to make them nonsensical on their own.

I've learned about the fact that Sandro actually has more offensive plays than defensives, though he can do both rather well, it seems. Would make for an all-rounder for the field, and would explain his earnings and net worth.

Learned about the Atlantis Orbitals, that are man-made, and built just to look like Earth. I wonder if their universe has Halos as well, then these two techs could collide, and the Forerunner is going to have a hard time with their Halos, and they would probably go on to other shapes, just so that they can get ahead of Arkeyana.

Also on

Cutter Drive: A method of faster than light employed by Arkeyana and the Voidwalkers, this FTL method "cuts" a ship out of space, and transplants it to a different region entirely within the span of a picosecond. Attempts to further shorten this have been ceased for the foreseeable future due to risks of violating causality.

I like how it was restricted not because of the limitations of the technology itself, or any other man-made restrictions (like perhaps because it took too much energy, or because of the logistics), but it was only because of violating causality. So, in other words, the Arkeyana tech can go beyond, but they chose not to in order to not violate the laws of causality.

The country has three personifications:

Klarissa Citron Ashe Tiara Hope Ann "Moeder Natuur" Summer, who is literally Mother Nature and wears a flower crown and a green dress. Her powers and abilities depend on Environmental Beauty (as an NS stat).

Anna "De Eeuwige Vreugde" Caitlin Madeline Brigitte Priscilla Mavis Star Thanda Pwint Thinzar Nwe, who is literally Joy from Inside Out. She doesn't like heights, deep water, or internal conflict.

Cyan "Het Eeuwige Vreugdevolle Kat" Laura Arisu Violetta Oriana Kiyota Hijirikawa, who is literally a catgirl. She was the result of a scientific experiment in Japan.

Despite being in the middle east, a region which likely wouldn't be able to support that much people, their largest city has an urban population of 67 million. Comparatively, the population of all of Kanto (Where Tokyo is) only has 43.5 million and the largest urban area in all of the Middle East is Tehran at 15 million.

Civil wars are most likely to break out due to the lack of alcoholic substances. Also, despite being a medieval nation they are magically managed to bitchslap Hammer Britannia, which I assume involved the autistic screeching version of Deus Vult.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

The Influence of Sea Power upon History is still as American as apple pie despite the massive turn left, albeit their Navy's emphasis has shifted towards the defensive even if said defense still involves commerce raiding and maritime economic disruption of potential enemies.

From the several tropes that I've read so far... It would seem that the Nekos are quite untrusting towards foreign men, and it doesn't really help much that men themselves are an expendable gender. Though, it might just be because of the sex ratio.

EDIT: Crap, that's what Subverted means. My bad!

EDIT 2: I am adding something else because it will be unfair if half of what I said is wrong. 😊 So... Learning from the history, and the drawings, it would seem that the Nekos are cat-like human, that's been established. But I love that they are not overly sexualised, and your drawings are very, very neat and lovely. ^^ And that they use the same form of camouflage as the RL MT army, so... That's good!
