I'd say very well known across the website.

A solarpunk-lunarpunk, democratic confederalist PMT-FT nation transitioning towards a communist society.

They're generally making their name better known on F7. Kinda just popped outta nowhere and now you see Sheroa in every other thread.

/reserved DEFINITION:
To reserve a post as to prevent being ninja'd. This is especially useful for having posts that may take effort or a good portion of time to make, as there is a greater chance of such things being ninja'd than a slash and a word. Only practical in some threads compared to others. The idea is to put /reserved first and edit it once you have a proper answer. As such, you are not ninja'd. BN will do you as long as you eventually edit your /reserved into a proper post.

Likewise, Liberza is one of the F7ers I recognize outside of F7, and that says a lot, because I don't really go out of this forum asides from GP, they've been a generally active user and I still can't get that markiplier "flag" out of my head, it feels uncanny to see them without it, very well known.

Very well known for their raiding exploits

How much wood could a woodchuck chuck if a woodchuck could chuck wood?
As much wood as a woodchuck could chuck, if a woodchuck could chuck wood.

Some won't recognize AN by its name, but most everyone in and out of F7 have interacted with it at least once.

They're certainly very new, while they've popped up quite a few times, they haven't yet done enough for much of F7 (or other forums for that matter) to recognize them all to well, except for the name, maybe. Little known.

Very known, I'd wager. I know them, and they hold several high positions in several regions (not to mention their endeavors in raiding).

BN, remember that this is not how much you know me personally, but how much I'm generally known.

Very well known, especially in FT RP Communities and F7. I feel like I've at least seen them in every F7 thread I've been in, and that's probably true.
