Women are expected to have their hair long and beautiful. Such a haircut, the "Karen" haircut, the boyish hair style which certain women of todays increasingly Westernized generation have, is regarded as an LGBT thing and is punished by execution with a machinegun.

As he is an orphan, basically the judge would just ask him if he believes that the parents/kidnappers deserve to be punished. If the orphan assured the judge that they were good parents, nothing would happen to them.

If, for some reason, it is proven that they were not good parents, they could face sentences ranging from 25 to 50 years in prison. The situation would be quite another if he weren't an orphan, however.

Unlawful operation of a Computer carries a maximum penalty of 5 years imprisonment. Additional charges may be levied against the defendant depending on the intent, significance and character of the crime committed through a computer, e.g. accessing data or impairing communications.

Depends; was it not illegally captured from the wild, are you providing it with proper cares, is it not in danger or a danger to other people around it and has a proper environment in your property? No problem, keep it and take good care of it. It might be requested of you to provide it for reproduction programs, but if you're properly taking care of it it's not really a crime. Otherwise a hefty fine.

Not a crime; in fact, this is encouraged, especially after the Interstellar Red Scare of 2117-2118. However, an exception is if this is done with pedophilic or otherwise perverted sexual intent, in which case the offender will receive the usual 20,000-lash, firing squad execution for waging war against Kelios.
