Hello there, Alexandria. Your life has been quite luxurious to match your achievements in receiving high grades in your school career, however, when it comes to your political career. It strikes me that you are clueless and have no desire to improve the state of the Kingdom under your reign, without it just being governed by a bunch of fat clowns in Parliament. I do wish to avoid this portrayal, judged by the information provided to me. So, I recommend adding details to your role in policy making. I would be interested to see your takes on tackling the issues surrounding the environment and alternative energy. Overall, my opinion is neutral.

"Looks like ol' Mercer has a big family... This one appears to be some sort of biologist. A botanist to be percise, and given, the looks and usefulness of Arcadia, he did a damn good job. But I have a bad feeling, that dude might have some dark secret. After all, plants not only give ya' oxygen, food and medicines, but also can produce some really nasty poisons, or maybe... just maybe turn out to be an invasive specie, unfit for consumption and able to destroy ecosystems and agriculture. What if some of those end up in Skyhooked? We better develop new ways to combat invasive species just in case." -Shawn Bjomson

The licentious, hedonistic, and impulsive tendencies of Shawn repulse the Prime Mind, who refuses to express his opinion on the subject in speech, evaluating such an action as a wasteful expenditure of his energy. The Arbiter of Foreign Affairs instead relays his thoughts in monotone:

"Hedonism warrants redundant proprietary squander. Proprietary squander contravenes the Highest Power's preference of maximal optimization of activity to development. Hence, the Highest Power is appalled by the quality of hedonism. Shawn Bjomson possesses the quality of hedonism. Hence, the Highest Power is appalled by Shawn Bjomson. Further, impulsiveness warrants spontaneous impairment of an individual's judgement. Impaired judgement increases propensity for error. The Highest Power is appalled by error. Shawn Bjomson possesses the quality of impulsiveness. Hence, the Highest Power is appalled by Shawn Bjomson."

The Empress is mistaken, the Japanese surrendered in the swiftest, once recognizing the empire would be over if they didn't. Thus, when they did, the Empire survived on the condition to never seek out offensive campaigns ever again, and sometime later becoming a great asset to defend the free world from the Red Menace. If you have other questions regarding this matter, telegram me. I will be happy to answer them. Otherwise, getting back on topic, the Empress is a rebellious one, regarding her marrying the same sex and not marrying the opposite sex to maintain bloodline. I'm unsure how her family will keep the throne without an heir but that is not my concern and to be honest. I could care less, what happens in the end. My plants come first before anything else. Hm, the Empress's policies are no different from any generic not-insane progressive leader so there isn't anything to criticize so in conclusion, my stance is neutral with a slight positive.

The very best and only common thing I can think of him is.... he looks a little bit like a woman, like me when I am with my choice of fashion. But that aside, oh my goodness gracious, why am I having a heart-to-heart talk with a damn racist? From what I have heard from the others and the like, I am sure that you are not too bad when it comes to other things, but... damn, man, you will have to change your attitude on things a little, if you know what I mean? The way you think is just wack, and I seriously am not feeling any good vibes from racism. At the very least, you seem to hate China as well, as in that authoritarian state from the days of old for us. So... I guess that got that going between us, and the fact that you are against someone from Rapture Republic. Those are swell, I suppose. Still, a little slightly negative on you, man. It's like, we can get along more or less, but it feels extremely uncomfortable knowing that you probably want me dead if I am not a hundred times bigger. Ik denk dat het beter is om een racist te ontmoeten dan een verdomde gek. / Better to meet a racist than a damn nutjob, I guess.

I find this Valentijne character to be most remarkable, when regarding that he overcame the tragedy of a nuclear war that almost destroyed humanity, and himself miraculously saving the race from extinction and forging a utopia without any ulterior motives establishing a true and real garden of Eden. I am quite amazed by his labour to build a perfect society out of the ashes. However, my impressions with his achievements stop with his disdain for my grumpy brother and stretching that disdain to all Aquarians. Who have nothing to do with, whatever childish affair is happening between John and Valentijne. It will only make this high school rivalry worse, if you throw in folks, who did nothing to sour foreign relations. I hope my brother and yourself get back to neutral terms. It would show signs of maturity but if not, kept the hate restricted, ok? And not at anyone that so happens to be associated with the Rapture Republic. In conclusion, I am neutral.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

"A man of war, and yet not a warmonger. A man on a self-necessitated quest of repentance, for a crime borne of doubt. The General is certainly a curious fellow. His morals appear to be the thing that drives him ever forwards - a source of strength and weakness in equal measure. His power is considerable, yet he wields it sparingly out of a blinding, everpresent conviction... I will not dismiss him as meek, or in any way a pushover. To know when to strike is practically as important as the nature of the strike itself. Indeed, he could potentially have been considered Council material, were it not for such radical divides in ideology. And his ideology is what gives him power, in a rather literal sense... he may be a hazard in the future, though I find it difficult to imagine the conditions under which we would cross blades. A man worthy of my respect in a way few others may hope to be. A noteworthy feat."

"Ah, Kresge.....If my archives are to be believed, I've stated my fair share on him already, but I suppose it doesn't quite hurt to give it another shot....I suppose judging his politics would be a rather stupid move considering that Eisenstern isn't even a traditional country.....But I shall judge him by his own merits. From all that I know of him, he's truly a man with the conviction and strength to get things done. Fighting opponents and gods stronger than him, possessing the will to manipulate others when it's to his advantage.....really, he reminds me quite a bit of my deceased comrade, the Dragon God. I wonder what would've happened if they ever met.....but I digress! Quite an interesting fellow, all things considered!"

What happens when you cross anime powers and overpowered leaders with furries, all written by a bored Homestuck fan with too much time? Well, you get Rumei. A multiethnic, FT republic with both might and magic that let it conquer the entire Orion Arm.

A 7.6 (this is probably outdated but I can't do the calculations rn) (Tier 9, Level 6, Type 9) according to this index.

Come to The Orion, we got CULTURE and FURRIES

Show Recommendation: Cobra Kai. It is very, very good.

IC Name: Roman Republic, or simply Rome (Rumei). Occasionally called the Ignisian Republic. Current year is 2697.
