"Question, what's the meaning behind the title of 'High Executor' if it has so many occupants? Are there 'High Executors' more higher then others? Odd, that such a superior alien race can get caught up in the simplest knacks, namely the issues that come up with one being human. Personally, for a military I would never put the best men at the front in the best seat of the headquarters, but if the Godular's continue to find success, kudos to them on their interplanetary conquests."

"This is a phenomenal work. I cannot believe that you took all of that time out of your day to assemble so eloquent and strongly written a response. Somebody please award this president a medal for their hard work, they of all possible people deserve it. I could spend hours pouring over your words to find deeper meaning. How long did you spend? Two days? Three days? I know writing that speech must have been quite taxing for you. Almost as taxing as it was for me to read it.

Let me make this clear to you. I will not stand down to enemies of democracy, wherever they may be. We may both be socialist nations, but we are not comrades. Any enemy of freedom and democracy is my enemy. You will be brought to justice, tried for your crimes, and likely executed for crimes against sapient beings. You'll see firsthand just how 'weak' I can be, Konstantin."

I am terribly sorry for disrespecting your lovely nation and wish that our past president didn't offend you too much to the extent that we can't mend the bond between our two lovely nations. I also very much like that you can keep your patience in writing beautiful reports like that. I'm once again am greatly sorry for the mishaps of our last President and hope you will forgive our nation.
