"Yet another foreign empire that seeks to crush the flame of liberty- this time populated by a previously unknown alien species. Yet another threat to our way of life, with a powerful being at its head. The individual named Wylas Pyrrus, the Imperial Consul of the Ignis States, harkens back to the threat of the terrible Ar-Tegal, who ruled the Empire of Rusan with an iron fist. Just as the dark lord of Rusan's fascism was stopped, so too shall the Ignisian system, and the deception of the tyrant whom they call 'Zen'. The Confederacy not only survived the Great Atlas War against Rusan and Ar-Tegal, but emerged victorious; stranger than ever before. Should the Imperial Consul find it within his best interest to meddle in the affairs of the free people of the Atlas Sector, then the free people will strike back, with force that Pyrrus may find surprising."
- President Jonathan Grant

Set within a self-contained canon called the Atlas Sector, named after the region of space it takes place in.

In canon with Zemjanska Sodruzhestvo, Greater Rusan, and Zotrahn. Rusan and Zotrahn are set in the past of this universe, whereas this nation and Zemjanska Sodruzhestvo are set in the current day of this universe.

Artemis Mencer

"Caught" By Mack's name. I sounded like a buffoon who can't talk properly. Well, eh, that's just the consequence of loving nature more than silly technology which is hypocritical at the moment. As I'm quite liking this contraption to interact with people and not chat with my collection of demon heads to remain sane with the illusion of interaction with folk deep within this jungle who won't just try to kill me. Maybe they will, who knows. At least I had the time to have a chat and that's all that matters to me. Anyway, this man is definitely an individual to be feared and not quite respected, I do, but those moral modernizers will just cry and denounce Neer doing what there stick for arms can't do. Like making the world his bitch just like what my father does. Do you know something, Neer? Come to Artemis Prime. I want to see how physically strong you truly are, and how long you can survive in the carnivorous Shadowlands that I'm happy to call home.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

Oh boy. I wasn't expecting to be standing before one of the many entities that lurk beyond the plane. This quite the experience, I like it. He's immense, intimidating yet is a god that isn't amoral and doesn't treat the Omniverse like his toy. I kinda want him too. It gives me the chance to fight bigger fish in this cursed jungle perfecting my skills as a competent and proud Aquarian warrior, and in return. He'll be entertaining if only slightly but enough to not be disinterested, and that's all I want. Someone to present me with death-defying challenges and they get to watch the show and me potentially die in the middle of the show. Man, I'm quite lonely yet I want to stay here, forever. Living the modernizer's life just isn't for me. This jungle will be the place I die, quite horrifically but it'll be a heroic one. Yeah...Sorry to get a bit depressing there. My full assessment is positive and I hope you pop something ridiculous for me to fight. I love some action, well, it's a constant basis but still. It helps with forgetting the isolation!

"Oh, about buildin' relations and such, I have an offer from Beaver Co, Isaak's constructions, and Orderly Masons building compaines. I admit, they paid me good money to deliver it in our interaction. In short, they wanna expand their markets to new countries and they belive, that Valentine Z would look like a good place to do so. Besides, they will be able to learn new technologies in architecture. Either way, I am glad, that we have managed to build up the relations between Skyhooked and Valentine Z that easy. Such partnership benefits us both, dudes!

Oh, and gotta admit, it feels weird to hear, that I am a "little friend.", cuz for ordinary people, I am pretty damn big and tall guy. I know, that you dudes are giants, but still..."-Shawn Bjornson Skyhooked is MT/PMT with a few FT elements. Military is factbook only. NS stats are mostly non canon.

This Bleeper been telling me that you once were at odds with my father but now you two are working on involving your relations with one another, and maybe hopefully becoming friends merely out of the fact. Your economies are too interconnected with one another to risk any big escalate with each other. That be pretty nasty for you modernizers. That's why I reframe from the modern world. To follow my true calling in the wild and away from the pettiness of materialism and ideologies that really have no meaning, once the power goes out. Otherwise, you seem like a strong warrior but I recommend you cut back on your hypersexual activities. It might backfire on ya. My full assessment is slightly positive.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.
