I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

Woods of Ypres-Mirror Reflection & The Reinventing

I think I'd like these guys more if they had more songs like I Was Buried In Mount Pleasant Cemetery, though not exactly like that of course. I dunno, I just have a hard time getting into this vocal style as much. Still enjoying them decently though.
