The ancient Inklings had a bizarre relationship with the Native Americans, with them both being depicted as gods and depicted as demons at the same time. Along with this, that would make it the only country other than Greenland to have a native majority.

~~I may doubt the authenticity of native Americans treating shape-shifting 14-year-olds as gods. I mean, even Cortez was only treated as a god for so long. But you know.~~

AN: Their leader, who looks like Fidel Castro despite his German name, was inspired to help his country by his father. His father was treated poorly for his status as a veteran and Hoszt hated that.

Architecture in New Spiedska has been shaped by many internal and external factors and regional distinctions. As a whole it represents a rich eclectic and innovative tradition. An ever-expanding form of architecture is "Googieism", which draws inspiration from retrofuturism (Which first spawned in the 1950s), though Googieism doesn't see as nearly as much prominence as more ordinary architecture styles like modernism.

I swear I misread that as Googleism, which would kinda make sense in a way, since Google is kinda synonymous with technology and by extension, by how they have futuristic-looking HQs and buildings. Anyway, going back to the topic, it's a shame to learn that it is not as popular and prominent. But then again, at the same time, I think it has a charm to it, if these style of buildings are not as popular; you don't want to see too much of it, after all!

@ Wexas: The fact that King Jerry II is such a quick-thinker. Something about finding a Model 1873 despite lack of firearms experience he was able to formulate a plan and won a battle. So... I think that is one of the more impressive things that I have found out about the King himself!

New Spiedska is run by a Lesbian leader, was a major ally to the US, and is comprised of inklings, I guess.

The age of conscription into the military is a minimum of 18 years old. They have around 910,000 in active personnel and they have an estimated reserve personnel of 360,000. Their 'Supreme Commander-in-Chief' is the Emperor themselves, Jayanagara VII.
