Still counts as manslaughter, so you would likely get 3-8 years in prison

Is an actual crime, and counts as "Harming of Enviroment."

Also depends on many factors, but usually 5 - 10 years in prison with a 5.000 - 25.000 Artherta fine depending on factors also.

The said refugees will be either returned to their home country by force or, in case of them resisting arrest and extradition, will be used as test subjects, with the youngest being taken away and re-educated. The perpetrator will most likely have to pay extremely large fines and serve 5-7 years in prison, with him being added on the "shoot list" (the people that the police can use lethal force with no limitations if they deem that such a person is breaking the law). If repeated offense shooting squad.

Maybe a personal offense lawsuit, but most likely the offended won't stop at this and will challenge the perp to duel with non-lethal or lethal weapons
