One of the few nation's with a frightening economy, without a single car. One of the most developed nations, but our government is corrupt as fridge. "Perhaps, one day... the injustice will cease to exist, and there will be total peace. In Skyhooked, we will still spar with each other though, with less than lethal weapons, to keep ourselves in shape and blow off steam. But too bad, this won't come so soon. Yet, let's enjoy some nice booze and profits from grateful and cheerful tourists, shall we? And I am looking forward to get several advices about making Grand Festival even more awesome! Valentina knows how to entertain folks. Like anyone else from this eternally cheerful nation of Valentine Z.

In the core, we stand for very similar ideas, if not the same ones. Although, we are more warlike, chaotic and indulgent. Ya' know... usual stuff... we have suffered 20 years of brutal oppression and earned our freedom through blood. And it's a sad fact, but under all our cheerfulness, there are deep mental scars. It may look like nothing, compared to the horrors of nuclear war, but the enlightened culture of our past was completely obliterated by the tyrant." - Shawn Bjornson

Yet his strength is on the very thin line between strictness and brutality. But he leads a simple people, from a simpler time, I suppose. These medieval miscreants should hardly be of concern to the civilised world. If I had one piece of advice to offer to any foreign leader regarding this man, I'd say ignore him. But for the particularly bloodthirsty, I suppose there's nothing stopping someone from crushing Adelbrand and his armies, razing his lands, and salting his fields. Perhaps that would be treatment more appropriate to his time."

But age aside, there is a "young" man who deserves justified spite and a level of verbal abuse: quite a common sight to see socialists become the very things that their couple of philosophers have said to battle against: tyrants, of the socialist kind. Funny it is, when revolutionaries rose up in rebellion against their masters, and after the fighting ends, they become dictators themselves. Mzhkin is quite petty, a supposed "young" man who rose from the ashes of his very homeland and claim his place in daily governance as its so-called "Supreme Leader" to rule indefinitely. Very, very pathetic of him, being the common product of socialism just to combine it with fascistic elements, oh the bitter irony of his stance against Fascism."

The King is a damn fool to believe the Aquarian people will give up their wealth which has been forged by the Chancellor's magnificent meritocratic system where it weeds out the weak and the worthless and brings forth the strong as a system of benevolent struggle to keep a society from being corrupted by weak and pathetic man. It is the only system that has produced the results to have an ambitious populace that will use everything inside and outside of the book to climb up the ladder as they bash the skulls of anyone that gets in their way to achieve greatness and make the Fatherland proud. Rapture will not embrace the tyranny of the weak, Rapture shall forever be a society where only the most brilliant and strongest can survive. If King Antimanas tries to interfere, his Kingdom shall cease to exist! Glory to Rapture! Long live the Chancellor!.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

"He is a slaver, grown up in a hellish place, where students have to fight and backstab each other to survive and graduate. I know, that meritocracy is important, sure, but this... is just ain't right! He claims, that if I ever came to Rapture, he'd kill me for violation of "hygienic" law... Lemme' now say this. I cannot understand Rapture's morality at all, cuz they are slaughterin' innocents in thousands and enslaving the rest, while spreading bio-weapons is fine to them, but if someone wants to have a drink, make a bet, or have some casual ol' sex, they'll claim, that this is "Immoral" and think of the indulgin' dude even worse than Israel would think of a holocaust denier.

No wonder, we are on his "Hostile" list. We drink booze, we mate, we enjoy ocean and beaches, we have fun, and we refuse to commit atrocities and fight slavery. We believe in freedom of lifestyle and mutual aid. And to us... basic ethics in science matter.

Either way, he should know, that no virus or implant will break Skyhookedian will for freedom! Still... it's a relief, that Rapture won't go to war with us or Valentine Z, after all, we are in the middle of a tourist season, and conflict is the last thing we need. And if some Rapture private companies wanna sell things in Skyhooked... why not? If they obey our laws. Like... no goddamn human trafficking on our turf.

And no, we ain't weak even by his standards. For during the revolution, we have defeated our old government's military, police, mercenaries and foreign intervention... with nothing but our will and shoddy makeshift weapons. But we shall use our strength for the sake of good. To aid, protect and empower the unfortunate, so they fight off those, who prey on them!" -Shawn Bjornson

Skyhooked is MT/PMT with a few FT elements. Military is factbook only. NS stats are mostly non canon.
