Impossible is just a big word thrown around by small men who find it easier to live in the world they've been given than to explore the power they have to change it. Impossible is not a fact. It's an opinion. Impossible is not a declaration. It's a dare. Impossible is potential. Impossible is temporary. Impossible is nothing.

I am now also listening to this because your mentioning it reminded me how frustrating I find the song. I like the middle part so much more than either the start or the end (the end being the start of the rain exploding bit). This is not to say I dislike either those bits or the entire thing mind.

I like the start and the middle - they both just seem so great to me. The end is not as great as them, but it's still a good one.

I'd agree there. I sometimes get the idea that it may as well be at least two songs.

I have just finished listening to How Bizarre - OMC

Roger Miller - King Of The Road

The dead swans lay in the stagnant pool.
They lay. They rotted. They turned Around occasionally.
Bits of flesh dropped off them from
Time to time.
And sank into the pool's mire.
They also smelt a great deal.
