About half of their population is located on the island of Java. A full 136 million folks on such an island must result in some pretty monstrous population density.

An alternate history version of China in which the alliance between the Kuomintang and the Communist Party never broke down, eventually resulting in a federalized, democratic China. Though one of the world's strongest economies and an emerging superpower, China continues to suffer from high rates of income inequality, an overreaching and sometimes corrupt government, and cultural issues that continue to persist despite the efforts of many reformers over the decades. Most factbooks are still an active WIP.

Wang Jingwei and Chiang Kai-shek's role seems to have been swapped; Chiang failed to win power from Wang after the death of Sun Yat-sen and fled to Japan. Later on, he would become the leader of a Japanese puppet government in China.

Beginning in 1929, Majapahit experienced a civil war between the Imperial forces and the Majapahit Communist Party. For two years, the Communists were winning the war, until miraculously in 1931, the Imperial forces somehow won (yeah, I've no clue, the history seems to be missing a fair bit of info), and began an era of political repression against Communist sympathisers following the passage of the Act of the Eradication of Communism in 1931.

Most of Coryan's economic might derives from the sectors of space exploration and space-craft building. A small sector of the economy of Coryan is farming, due to the fact Coryans rarely feel any hunger. However, the farming industry still makes a level of profit, as it mostly focuses on supplying organic species.
