Criminal Intent to Defraud -- Fined 2x-5x amount defrauded depending on nature of crime. 1-5 years hard labor. Possible loss of citizenship. (note: withholding taxes as a form of political protest is legal and not to be construed as tax fraud).

Having it is not necessarily a crime. Being a party in its creation, or distributing it is.

1-5 years in a mental institution or hard labor or admixture of both depending on circumstances. After serving time, given a psychiatric assessment to see if person is a danger to himself or a threat to others. Released upon certification of sanity.

The modern Spibeian government enforces a high transparency on government and military plans/documents, so there's no direct punishment. Instead trespassing on government property, breaking and entering, and potentially being a threat to national security gives you a 10 year prison sentence

Hire them as a freelancer as soon as possible. Give them Honoratus Amicus status. Keep an eye on them for the next three years and run some background checks; if they prove useful and have never been a police officer, we've got a good potential recruit right there.

100 lashes and all your property is confiscated and given to the person you falsely accused. If they were executed, which is our punishment for rape, then you are executed.

Not a crime, although police might turn a blind eye to assault that doesn't result in serious injury.

While in the audience of a speech by a foreign president, throwing a shoe at said foreign president?
