"These uniforms and medallion pins are honoured relics of a time an entire nation reminisces for once more. Priceless in currency and in sentimental value. I'd be remiss to leave a spec of dirt on this uniform; it represents years of societal advancement and technological innovation. The world doesn't need more soldier-kings, General Wiker, and you know this well. The world needs more commanders in office. Authoritarian statesmen who will accept nothing less than the pinnacle of society. Curse us as you may, our struggle is one in the same. The Callianer Revolution will never be truly complete until you acknowledge this."

"Hm, yes Mr Robo-man. It is indeed a great pleasure to learn about your purging of dissidents and your dismantling of the oligarchy. My opinion of you has improved after studying about your squashing and quelling of these so-called freedoms. Those plebs don't need to read, learn, or speak against you. It's much easier if they just submitted and followed your every whim. Although, this whole assimilation problem freaks me out a bit. However, being a Bona Fide robophobe does mean we'll need you to go back to being a glorified textbook... actually maybe not even that... hey! Don't point that arm-canon at me. Rude! ### Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.
