"Iron Tiger is a great warrior. He reminds me quite a bit of my uncle Sipah Salar Nawab Ibrahim Siddiqui Bahadur, as he is also very passionate about the development of the military. Similarly Iron Tiger has spent the peace period training his soldiers, testing his weapons, and advancing the general strength of his military. The Cala is a respectable and an honourable individual"

Their Majesties, the King and Queen of New Carthagea

Europe's Most Gorgeous!

"A fellow monarch, interesting... I've come to know of Arslan recently, but I already seem to be curious of him. He too, believes in royal prerogative of kings, like me, but he seems to be quite a lot more authoritarian than me in many ways. I do not identify with his religion, nor do I associate with many of his beliefs and policies. At the best, I would say I have a rather neutral opinion of him."
-Christophe

"Ah, Arslan, he's the king from the Deccan plateau, isn't he? Both he and his father are absolutely smoking ho-, uh, handsome. Anyways, I must say, just like my husband, I do not appreciate your disinterest towards Europe and our culture, but every man is for himself, and I respect you for having strong opinions of yourself."

"Seven curses to the wind, what did you DO?! Wait, don't answer that, I already know the answer to that question and I should feel bad for letting utter disbelief get the better of me. Among my people, and the Mountain Kings tribe as well, there is a story about a careless traveler who climbs a treacherous slope despite the warnings of the locals. The traveler's carelessness causes a single rock to fall down the mountainside. That rock causes a massive rockslide that kills a hundred people. It is a story about how ill-thought actions can have dire repercussions, and you sir, are that cautionary tale. You dragged half of the GALAXY into a war over some spit of land that has little more than cultural value. How many people died for that sheer HUBRIS? That's just... no. You should NOT be in power. You leave death and destruction in your wake for the sake of triviality. It's... it's criminal, is what it is. I'll kill you if I meet you, to save others from pain." -Cala Vermuth Iron Tiger

Godulan Puppet #2, RPing as technologically advanced tribal society founded by mongols and vikings (and later with multiple other Asian and Native American cultures) motivated by an intrinsic devotion to the spirit of competition. They'll walk softly, talk softly, and make soothing noises as they stab you in the back and take your stuff... unless you're another Caleshan, whereupon they'll only stab you in the back figuratively!

"I have a hard time properly developing an opinion on any tribal barbarian, most tend to be savage and primitive, others not so bright. And this is exasperated by any clear line of authority, a face of their people if you will. Despite all of this, I have noticed several qualities of at least one individual, this Calas Vermuth, has a sense of nobility that seems out of place from a tribal leader. An air of virtue that would be the envy of lesser men, empty of any wicked sin upon this cursed Earth. I approve and hope the best upon his realm, and hope that the light of civilization reaches their people, and that he becomes a model for future leaders to strive to."

"I find your wording to be... confusing. If you would not describe the Ghesites as barbarian, then would you presume that they are civilized? From what I have learned, this is not the case. I do not underestimate them out of ignorance, but out of being informed of who they are. If I was not so sure of who my foe may or may not be, I would not be so brazen. While change may come to people and civilizations, to argue that the Ghesites would, in my life time or the next be a capable threat to Rome, is sophistry; The Ghesites don't register as much of a threat as Atilla."

I am not much of a fan of him being a bit war-like, but I can definitely get behind the fact that he loves explorations! He must have discovered other worlds (perhaps only to vaporise them, that's scary!). Ahh, ahem, he seems like someone who feels comfortable on the battlefield. I don't blame him - he seems to be purposed for that, though even in the times of war, he needs to know that he can't just go around hurting everyone, especially if they don't want to fight back. I am neutral on him, ultimately. Has his good and bad points, but you know, I have seen worse! And err, no thank you! Some other time on those lenses.

His godlessness should be the indictator for his fate, and all who merely contemplate sympathizing with this creature shall be crucified."

VlaRiSsia's oldest puppet who was revived out of boredom. NS stats were accused of heresy and burned at the stake.

The Tilminese Federation is a totalitarian fascist theocracy ruled with an iron fist by The Overseers, a fanatical organization of theocratic fundamentalists seeking to eradicate 'modern degeneracy'. Has scenic architecture, no light pollution, quiet streets and public executions for the smallest crimes. Oh and one in every four Tilminese has died from starvation, disease, execution, forced labor, and genocide ever since the Overseers have taken power but that's not too important.

For every reply deemed by The Overseers as 'boring', they will massacre and raze a village. Number of villages razed: 21

Official Judgement of The Overseers:

“We judge Arslan heretic. His faith, ethnicity, political beliefs, all inferior to our own. He is far too progressive to stay in power, and will officially be deemed part of the modern degeneracy eating away at our neighboring nations. We are thankful we have exterminated such inferiority, as we may end up like this insect's little kingdom. His heretical existence would only be useful as a disemboweled husk hanging in public square.”
