Monkey #981 had many dead friends because of your heartless genocide. He mourned, but wanted to know what dying is like. He was a very smart monkey and invented a very good machine noone has ever invented before to do is. He tried the machine.

His friends found his carcass in one of the two chambers of the machine. The door was open.

Confidential -this is how the machine worked. Danger of broken mind

Monkey 965 tossed a golf-ball-sized fragment of Radioactive Francium into a Mason Jar filled with water. He therefore created a self-cocking nuclear bomb that he held in his hand.

Needless to say, his extinction was swift.

Monkey 960 was responsible for the United Kingdom's petrol shortage, firing truck drivers by flinging its excrement onto their uniforms. There is still a shortage, because, you know, panic buying.
